

REAL-WORLD BUSINESS DATA FOR AI

Business know-how. Two ways to earn.

AI labs use real business examples to train and evaluate models – the kind behind tools such as ChatGPT and Claude.

DataBuyers coordinates initial qualification and buyer conversations. Two separate routes may be available where there is a fit.

Trades (HVAC, plumbing & more) / Agencies (marketing & web) / Freight brokerage & 3PL / Staffing & recruiting
Wholesale distributors / Property & HOA management / Commercial general contractors

01 License existing business records

RECORDS YOU ALREADY HOLD

Selected historical records can help AI learn how real work proceeds, including decisions, exceptions and outcomes. Fit, rights, quality and commercial terms are reviewed individually.

Examples: job and project histories; estimates, invoices and transactions; business communications; SOPs and decision workflows.

02 Get paid to record tasks

NEW HANDS-ON RECORDINGS

Separate from licensing past records. Selected technicians or hands-on teams may earn hourly for approved task recordings used to train AI and robotics.

- Separate agreement. Rates, eligibility and project availability vary.
- Approved recording work. Payment covers approved work, rather than every ordinary working hour.
- Permissions first. Relevant employer, worker, customer and site approvals must be in place before recording.
- Separate criteria. The desk-staff screening guide for route 01 does not apply.

Privacy is part of the agreement.

Personal and confidential information must be removed, masked or transformed before downstream AI use. Before records are transferred, you approve the scope, preparation provider, permitted use, access and retention terms in writing.

Any independent preparation provider is identified and agreed in the project terms.
